Diversity and Equity Policy

1. PURPOSE

To provide a statement of the University’s equity and diversity principles, which support our Values and Signature Behaviours, and promote best business practice in education and employment, in accordance with legislative and regulatory obligations. These principles are founded on our Values and Signature Behaviours and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The University recognises that fostering diversity benefits the University community and results in a safe, innovative and prosperous environment.

2. POLICY STATEMENT

2.1 University community members (as defined in the Curtin Common Definitions) will uphold the equity and diversity principles of ‘Right, Opportunity, Recognition and Inclusion (RORI)’ within their daily work, research, teaching, learning, engagement and management practices.

   (a) Right – each member of the University community has a right to be treated with respect, equality and dignity, and to be able to participate in all aspects of University life on an equal footing.

   (b) Opportunity – the University will provide equitable opportunity for individuals to access and advance in employment and education.

   (c) Recognition – each member of the University community will be recognised and valued for their diversity. The significance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders as the nation’s First Peoples is particularly acknowledged.

   (d) Inclusion – the local, national and global community will be reflected within the University community by attracting and retaining staff and students from a broad range of backgrounds.

2.2 University community members will ensure that RORI is reflected in education and employment at the University in the following ways:

   (a) University community members will ensure the absence of unlawful discrimination, harassment, and violence.

   (b) University executive team and managers will foster a culture that embraces equity in employment, education and research with a particular focus on gender equity and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander inclusion.

   (c) Managers and areas responsible for policy will continually review their employment practices including: recruitment, retention, performance management, promotions, talent identification and identification of high potentials, succession planning, training and development, resignations, key performance indicators for managers, and remuneration; to avoid discrimination and bias.

   (d) University decision-making bodies will encourage the participation of people from diverse backgrounds in decision-making and decision-making roles.

   (e) University community members will support the special needs of students and staff based on diversity grounds, provided that this does not result in unjustifiable hardship for the University.

   (f) Students and staff will communicate in ways that are inclusive and reflect the University’s commitment to valuing diversity.
